BEST BET: Race 2 - #1 One of a Kind

I know that it's been a while since this horse has seen the winners circle, but there also are not many turf races in his form to go off of. He ran a huge race last time out behind a winner that wired the field, and is spotted well. One of a Kind seems to be coming into his own since being claimed by Mik Maker.

LONGSHOT: Race 12 - #2 Sand Dancer

The race that Sand Dancer comes out of was a very competitive one, and I thought that he was closing with great energy last time out, despite being very wide. Luis Saez stays aboard and that's definitely a positive, plus this gelding has shown versatility in his four starts so far.
