BEST BET: Race 9 - #5 Night Owl

One of two in this race for trainer Chad Brown, this filly has been freshened since her debut race in October, and has been working very well on the Palm Meadows turf course. She earned a 73 Beyer Speed Figure for her fourth place finish in her first race, and that absolutely makes her a big player in here.

LONGSHOT: Race 7 - #6 Violent Nature

Although this filly is taking a major jump up in class from claiming company to special weight, this daughter of Violence appears to have some talent and is progressing in the right direction. Her last race was very good, with a troubled trip as the favorite, and goes out for a very good barn in Brendan Walsh.
